

Career x Calling = Maximizing

CAREER, according to dictionary.com, means “an occupation or profession, especially one requiring special training, followed as one’s lifework.”

CALLING comes from the Greek word KALEO, which means “to call, invite, summon.” It refers to a personal relationship with God and the good works He has prepared for you.

Based on the definitions above, what are the differences and similarities between career and calling? Write your thoughts below...
