We are thinking about launching (growing or renewing) a job club or career ministry to help people in our community who are at career crossroads – some are unemployed, many are misemployed, and a few are happily-employed but seek purpose and calling.

What observations do you have about career/job needs in or around our organization?

In our community?

If you know anyone who has been or is in career crossroads, what needs have been expressed?

What resources do we have to help?

Who do you know who can help?

Are there any leaders or staff who might be interested in supporting what we are doing?

Is there anything not asked or that you did not say that you think important?

Would you like to know more as we get further down line? Thank you!
